Letter from Julie

I was lucky to have been able to quit work to care for our granddaughter, Ashlyn. Ashlyn, is the daughter of Grant Potter, firefighter for Manhattan and the Air National Guard and our daughter, Kelli, Dr. Seville's nurse at Surgical Associates. Because Ashlyn started everyday preschool last fall, unusually, this year, I have traveled around 6000 miles to attend family events and Pilot convention.

Our son, Casey, is a U.S. Attorney and our daughter in law, Michelle, is a vocational rehabilitation counselor for the state of Missouri. Their second child, Madeline, was born July 12th and their first daughter, Kennedy, turned two, June 29th, hence my four trips to Springfield.

At the District Workshop, President Renee Johnson gave a presentation on pebbles, smaller rocks and sand in a jar. Her point was: do we fill our lives with the bigger, more important pebbles or do we fill our lives with more sand that just keeps us busy?

It's always been so important to me that I am available when my family needs help. Let's fill our lives with being there for each other. Call someone up and take them out for a beverage or ice cream. Visit someone you haven't seen in a while. Write someone a letter, one of my favorite things to do. Be there for someone in need. Do More. Care More. Be More.

Blessings to all!

Julie

A Look Back: Pilot International

Pilot International was founded by Elizabeth Leonard in Macon, GA in 1921 and has had a long tradition of "Friendship and Service." In honor of Founder's Month, here are some highlights from Pilot International's past projects.

- Feeding 80,000 hungry Alaskan and Japanese citizens through the "Meals for Millions" program (1959)
- Sponsoring Project HOPE by equipping and maintaining the medical ship's pediatric ward (1965-66)
- Contributing $10,000 to establish cancer research laboratories at the Salk Institute (1967-68)
- Establishing elementary schools in Guatemala (1968)
- Contributing $200,000 within a two-year period to the United Cerebral Palsy Association (1985-87)
- Founding Project: WOMANPOWER, a joint CARE/Pilot project which provided financial aid to cottage industries owned by women in Peru (1987-1992)
- Contributing nearly $240,000 within a two-year period to pediatric AIDS research at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, Memphis, Tennessee (1988-1990)
- BrainMinders™—"Protecting Your Brain for Life" is Pilot International's award-winning signature project introduced at the Denver Convention in 2001. Over four hundred clubs applied for in-kind grants. In the seven years since the introduction over 560,000 books have been distributed to the clubs and evaluations have been received.

Program: The speaker, Lisa Toburen from Katie’s Way, was introduced by Karen Schroeder. Lisa presented an overview of the services provided to children aged 2 to 26 who exhibit mental health and behavioral issues. Katie’s Way was founded by Jeff Mathis as a result of his daughter’s suicide several years ago. The mission of the organization is “to change and improve the lives of young people affected with mental health challenges no matter how great or small.”

A brief discussion was held regarding the Spooktacular at the Zoo event. The other local clubs have declined to participate this year. Due to the cost to our club with an anticipated low impact on a return in this investment, members voted to not participate.

Meeting was adjourned at 12:39.
